

Display property

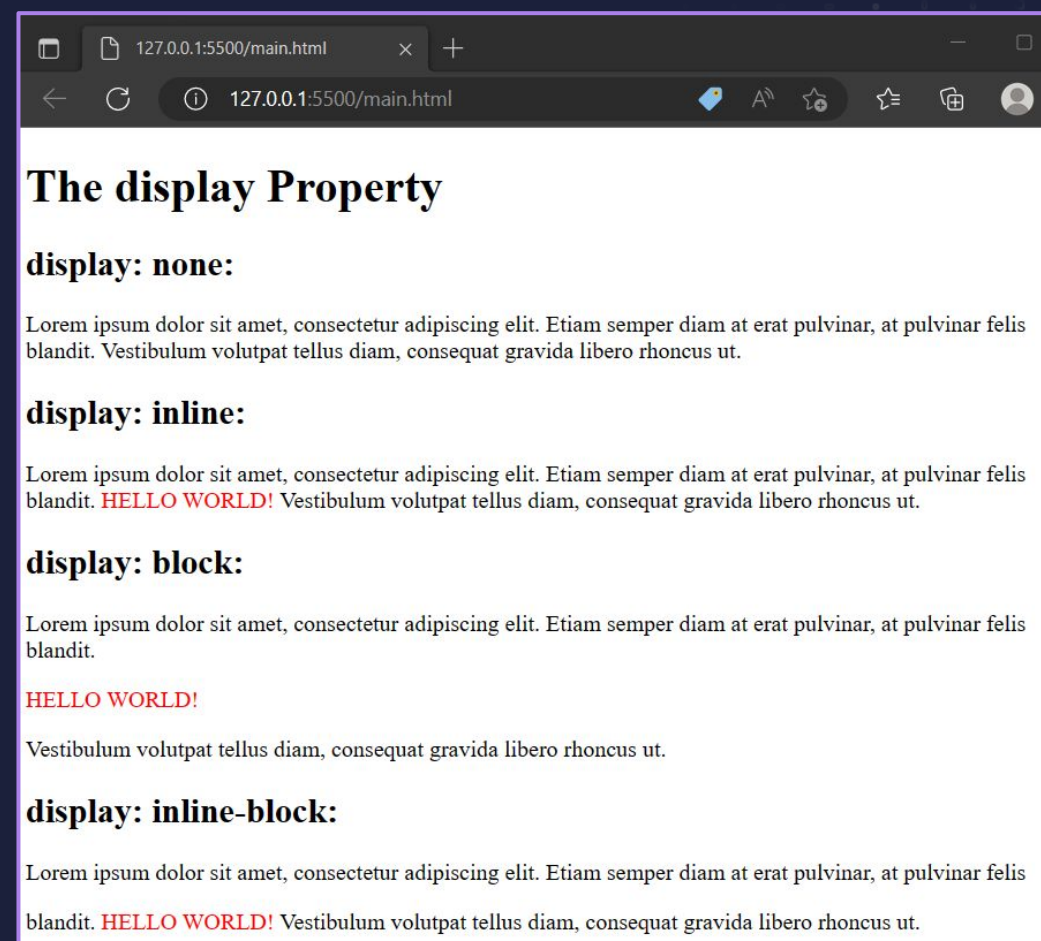

List of concepts:

1. Display property

Display property

- The display property specifies the display behavior (the type of rendering box) of an element.
- In HTML, the default display property value is taken from the HTML specifications or from the browser/user default style sheet. The default value in XML is inline, including SVG elements.
- Syntax:

display: value;

▶ THANK YOU ◀